In proposing in my note of March 13th 1910, the publication of a monograph on the Chalukyan architecture of the Maisur(Mysore) State, my idea was to give an account of the history and to illustrate the architecture and sculpture of the most important temples in the State, viz:- those at Hallebid and Belur, besides a few others to be selected hereafter. Probably there will not be more than half a dozen buildings in all to be dealt with. To illustrate each of these adequately, we should require on an average about four large quarto lithograph plates for the plans, sections and elevations, and about five collotype plates of the same size for general views and architectural details. This would mean a total of some 54 plates in all, in addition to which there would be a few half tone blocks in the letter press. The plates will cost some 50 rupees a piece, for 500 copies; which multiplied by 54 amounts to Rs.2,700-0-0. The text illustrations will cost more than Rs.200-0-0 and allowing Rs.700-0-0 for the printing we get a total of Rs.3,600-0-0 for the volume. This, I think, is an outside estimate. As to form, the monograph might conveniently be designed on the same lines as the volumes of the New Imperial Series e.g., the Tomb of Akbar at Sikandarah, Architecture of Ahmadabad, etc., of all of which the Mysore Durbar, no doubt, possesses copies.

As regards the time required for the completion of the work it is difficult to give an estimate until I know whether the Mysore Durbar has competent draftsmen in its employ, whom it could depute to the work; but assuming that it could find two qualified draftsmen and that we can get some help also from the Archaeological Department in Madras, the work ought to be finished within six months.
